HOWITZER COMPANY, 11th Infantry, Camp Sherman, Mount Gretna, Aug. 3.—One hundred per cent is all I can give the Howitzer Company," were the words spoken by Lieutenant Colonel John W. Woodard of the 11th, after he personally inspected each member of the company and all its equipment. The Howitzer Company was the only company in the entire regiment to receive 100 per cent for inspection.

The colonel, lieutenant colonel and staff of the 11th extended to the Howitzer Company, through Captain Thomas W. Scott, commanding, appreciation of its efforts and successful training during the past week, and commended the men on their excellent appearance and excellent condition of their equipment. All the tents were furlled for inspection. Each member of the company had his personal equipment laid out neatly on his bunk. Following the inspection a regimental review was held and the local outfit made an excellent appearance. Following review Captain Scott addressed the company and thanked the members for their effort in making the Howitzer Company 100 per cent soldiers.

Friday afternoon when the local company was out on the range firing he Howitzers, Colonel Alken, in command of the regiment, spent 35 minutes with the company, and General Edward Martin in command of the 5th Brigade, spent 25 minutes, both officers commending the men and their equipment and the interest they were showing in their work.

Captain B. R. De Graff, detached Regular Army officer attached to National Guard, has been highly interested in the activities of the Howitzer Company, and it has been through his interest and encouragement suggestions that the company is now in its present position.

On Friday the company organized a combat unit to take part in combat maneuvers to be held during the week. It is as follows:

Corporal Thomas Gregg, Squad 1, Stoken; Corporal Charles K. Mitchell, Squad 2, ammunition supply; Corporal Harry E. Loughrey, Squad 3, transportation; Corporal Edward C. Conn, Squad 4, howitzer; Squad 5, Stoken; Corporal Victor M. Matlock, Squad 6, ammunition; Corporal Earl S. Leach, Squad 7, howitzer; Corporal Laughter, having been appointed transport corporal, his duties will be to see that ammunition is properly supplied to sections in combat. Corporal Mitchell will have charge of ammunition supply to howitzers and mortars wherever in combat, assisted by Corporal Matlock. Sergeant Louis Conn will command first platoon and Sergeant Paul R. Collins will command the second platoon.

Private William A. Pitzer, of Brimstone corner fame, had a slight accident on Thursday afternoon while firing out a Shenango musket, which was attached to the second platoon of the Howitzer Company. Bill did a good job at that and moved several others from being hurt. Bill's horse was running away, heading straight for the company, but Bill turned the outlaw down hill. It stepped into a hole, "near beer" instead.

It has been noticed recently that Captain Scott's horse is a fox trotter, but instead of standing at attention when halt is called, it assumes the position of parade rest. There is some contention on this particular point.

Corporal Mitchell was seen sitting on his bunk the other day with a very long face, saying in a low voice, "I wish my girl would write to me." Dunbar and Scottdale papers, please copy.

The Howitzer Company was complimented by Captain Scott, for having the highest attendance of members at the church services held last Sunday and this. The soldiers are not ordered, only requested, to attend church services.

Reed Carson is still writing with his left hand. Carson is wondering if he shoots left handed.

Allen Springer, member of Howitzer Company and Robert Springer, second lieutenant of Company D, were visited by their mother, Mrs. Springer and two daughters, Janet and Mary Belle over the week-end.

SAMUEL S. BISHOP DIES SUDDENLY AT OLD VIRGINIA HOME

Samuel S. Bishop, 71 years old, one of the most widely-known residents of Connellsville, died Monday afternoon at Boyce, Va. Mr. Bishop was taken ill last spring but his condition improved and about a month ago he decided to take a trip to his former Virginia home. Yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock a telegram was received stating that he was in a critical condition and at 5 o'clock another was received announcing his death at 3:30 o'clock. After the first telegram was received a brother, W. A. Bishop, left for Boyce at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon and arrived there today.

Mr. Bishop was born in Connellsville December 30, 1852, in the house where DeMuth's florist store is now located on East Crawford avenue. He was a son of the late George and Rebecca McCormick Bishop, who at their time were among the best known residents of Connellsville. In his early days Mr. Bishop learned the machinist trade and for several years was employed at the McGrath shops, now the Connellsville Foundry Machine & Steel Casting Company. He severed his connection there to go to Wilmerding to accept a position with the Westinghouse Electric Company. He remained in the service of the company for twenty-five years, the last eight as foreman. From Wilmerding he went to Boyce, Va., to become resident manager of the Minnehaha Road and Gun Club of Wilmerding, of which he had been a member several years. He served as president of the club while a resident of Wilmerding. He later bought the club property and erected several dwellings on the ground, residing there until 1911 when he returned to Connellsville.

Mr. Bishop was twice married. In 1873 he was married to Miss Louisa C. Crossland, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Crossland of Uniontown. Mrs. Bishop died January 18, 1913 and on September 7, 1915 Mr. Bishop was married to Miss Ella Catherine Dove of Berryville, Pa. She died on the following September. Since the death of his wife Mr. Bishop had made his home with his son, J. Carl Bishop, 108 North Cottage avenue. Besides his son, J. Carl, he is survived by another son, William C. Bishop and one daughter, Mrs. Albert Means, one brother, W. A. Bishop, all of Connellsville and two grandchildren.

The body will be brought to Connellsville and removed by Charles A. McCormick, assistant to funeral director Charles C. Mitchell to the home of J. Carl Bishop. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Flora Swager Cook, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James Swink and Mrs. William Calhoun, both of Grindstone, and Mrs. John Kopt of Altoona and three brothers, Curtis and William Cook, both of Grindstone, and George R. Cook of Akron, Ohio.

The funeral service will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock at the Mount View Church, with South Brownsville Lodge No. 1344, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of which Mr. Cook was a charter member, in charge. Mrs. W. H. Friend of the West Side, who with her family is spending the summer at Kili Kare Cabin, the summer home of the Friends, about three miles above Mill Run, proved her ability as a marksman Saturday afternoon when she killed a large fox, the first shot bringing the fox to the ground. The bark of Mr. Friend's hunting dog attracted Mrs. Friend and Paul Friend, son of Mr. Friend of Connellsville, to the woods near the Friend home. On their way they found the dog had treed the fox, which was a young one, and was keeping close watch on its find. The fox was sitting on a limb, about 32 feet high.

The lady returned at once to the cabin to notify Mrs. Friend of their discovery. After getting her husband's gun Mrs. Friend accompanied the boys to the woods expecting to guard the fox from escaping until the arrival of Mr. Friend, who is a city mail carrier, from Connellsville in the evening. Fearing the animal might make its escape the boys finally persuaded Mrs. Friend to shoot it. It is thought the fox had been in the tree about three hours before it had been discovered. Mr. Friend brought it to Connellsville yesterday morning to have it mounted.

LABOR LEADERS CAN NOT DELIVER VOTE
OF UNION MEMBERS*Under Endorsement of LaFollette and Wheeler, Politicians Declare.*IT HAS NEVER BEEN DONE*Previous Elections Having Shown the Rank and File Will Vote Their Recommended Party Affiliations or According to Their Personal Inclinations.

By ROBERT T. SMITH.

Special Correspondent of The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Leaders of the two old parties in the capital today expressed neither surprise nor concern over the endorsement of the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket by the convention of the American Federation of Labor. They say the action was both expected and discounted.

The old line politicians take the position that the labor leaders are not able to deliver the labor vote and that members of the unions all over the country will vote according to their regular party affiliations or according to their personal inclinations. They say this always has been the case in the past, and there is no reason to look for a reversal of the usual order this year.

Republicans recalled the fact that a number of the most prominent labor leaders of the country came out for the Democratic ticket in 1920. Yet every labor center in the country rolled up a huge majority for Harding and Coolidge. Labor was told at that time that the "interests" behind Harding and Coolidge meant using the bayonet and the injunction in any labor disputes that might arise. Mr. Coolidge was just one of the politicians who had been elected governor of Massachusetts on what his followers called a "law and order" platform but which the unions interpreted as an anti-labor declaration.

Governor Cox of Ohio, the Democratic presidential candidate, had been elected fair to labor at all times. He had refused to call out the militia in labor disputes which he thought could be settled by mediation, and which proved to be the case.

The voting laborers listened to none of the advice given them apparently, but went to the polls in all their might and main for the Republican ticket.

At Democratic headquarters it was pointed out to say that while the so-called labor leaders have been for LaFollette from the beginning of his proposed candidacy, the rank and file of labor which had expressed itself had manifested a decided liking for William Gibbs McAdoo. This was particularly true of the railroad men. The Brotherhood officers had been working for LaFollette long before the Democratic national convention in New York City had been called to order. It was well known to all who had probed the sentiment of the workers themselves, however, that they were for McAdoo almost to a man.

Senator LaFollette had accepted the nomination notwithstanding before Mr. McAdoo had dropped out of the running at Madison Square Garden. The railroad brotherhood chiefs therefore would have been in rather an embarrassing position had a sudden switch in sentiment carried the Callahan over the top for the Democratic nomination.

These facts were recalled today to stress the point made by the Democrats and Republicans that there is division this year as always in the ranks of labor and that the vote will be apportioned among the various presidential candidates along natural lines.

Nationally the labor vote is regarded as the woman vote has been. There was some perturbation when women first were enfranchised to vote for presidential electors. But the politicians from the states where women had been voting for state officers for a great many years, alluded to with a saying that the female vote would follow the male vote, dividing itself in such a manner as to cause no particular upset. The women of the country have proved that they do not and will not vote en bloc.

The Progressives, on the other hand, claim the situation is different from any which has confronted labor in the past. They say the present movement and the present candidates are calculated to put far more effectively to labor than was the Roosevelt-Johnson third party ticket in 1912. Labor, it is insisted, has a rallying point this year. Most of the time it has had what the LaFollette followers call a "choice of evils" as between the Republican and Democratic tickets and in such circumstances it was natural for labor to divide along more or less partisan lines. The Progressive ticket has been endorsed as a combination of a Progressive Independent Republican and a Progressive Independent Democrat. Therefore it is argued that both Republican and Democratic members of labor unions can vote for it and still retain a semblance at least of their old party

Fire Pumper Exceeds What Maker Claimed

The city's new $12,800 fire pumper engine was given a test this morning by the Fire Department, which showed the machine that it could pump water when there was any around. Taken to the river at First street, the engine pumped 875 gallons per minute, exceeding the claim of its manufacturers that it would pump 750 gallons per minute.

In its initial test yesterday the engine demonstrated that the water supply at the site of the plant of the Lockhart Iron & Steel Company, which was destroyed by fire, is utterly inadequate. With one line of hose attached to the main pumper registered a pressure of 80 pounds but when another line was attached the pressure dropped to 20 pounds. There was not the required volume for use by the pumper or any other device.

Attached to a hydrant in East Park the machine soon raised the pressure from 28 to 280 pounds. The supply here was ample. On the West Side hill, where the normal pressure has been inadequate, 45 pounds was registered but the water again was not sufficient. When the pump was stopped the water ceased to flow for what Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt said seemed to be a minute. The machine arrived in the city Saturday and was unloaded Monday. It will be given a thorough test Wednesday afternoon in the presence of members of Council.

Health Department Testing Roadside Drinking Sources

By United Press.
HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—The State Health Department today announced it has taken over supervision of the roadside water supply to make it safe for drinking purposes. A traveling laboratory is making a tour of the State in charge of experts, and various wells and springs along the state highways are being tested to determine whether the germs of typhoid fever are lurking there.

"The water supply of roadside inns, eating stands and oil stations are now a real menace to the health of the traveling public," Dr. W. G. Turnbull of the department declared in a statement. "The development of the automobile and the construction of thousands of miles of good roads has produced a new water supply problem. Motorists drinking from rural sources have raised the problem of preventing the spread of typhoid fever from the country back to the city."

"The death rate for typhoid fever has been reduced from 54.8 per 100,000 in 1906 to 4.8 per 100,000 in 1923."

Concrete Floors Avert Dampness in Quarters

Many farmers who in former years lost money in poultry raising are now making it a success, all because they are learning that clean, dry quarters for poultry keep the flocks healthy and result in larger egg production and better birds for the market.

A chicken coop with a floor that is likely to become muddy in wet weather and to become a source of dirt in dry weather is not conducive to healthy poultry.

Concrete floors are now being laid in chicken coops in increasing numbers. The farmer has found that these floors save his flock in many ways by prevention of mud and dirt and by checking the rat menace. Concrete floors prevent rats burrowing under the coops if the floors are surrounded by a low concrete wall about 18 inches high. And if rats do enter the coops through the doors there is no chance for them to burrow into the ground to build nests. Elimination of rats means a great saving of eggs and young chicks.

A good, practical hen house floor is one two inches thick, made of a "rich" concrete mixture in which three parts of sand are used to one part of portland cement. This floor should be well smoothed over with a trowel.

Before laying a concrete floor a satisfactory base should be made to give adequate provision for drainage. An eight-inch fill of coarse crushed rock or clinkers makes a good base for a concrete hen house floor.

NEW CALENDAR IS ASKED FOR 1928

Scientists Point to Value of Plan Having Uniform Dates for Each Day.

Washington.—The old question of revising the calendar is coming up anew. Official bodies of no less importance than the weather bureau in the United States and the League of Nations in Europe are giving serious consideration to a general revision of the method of computing time. Efforts now are being made to bring about an international conference for a discussion of the problem and the formation of a new system.

The League of Nations has appointed a special committee to investigate the necessity and desirability for a reform of the calendar. The committee has held some sessions, but at present is in adjournment pending the gathering of additional data. Should the United States government, or any other government, call an international conference on the subject it is certain that the committee would play a large part in the deliberations.

Dr. C. F. Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau, may be considered as the head of the movement for calendar reform in this country. He has given much study to the subject and is probably the leading American expert. He advocates a simplification which would base the year on the seventy-two week as the major unit. The year would consist of 10 months of 28 days each, or exactly four weeks each.

One Day All by Itself.
One extra day would be left over. Doctor Marvin suggests that this extra day be not included in any month, but given a name of its own. It might be New Year's day, or any other which could be agreed upon. The day, under the plan, would be a world-wide holiday. It should be placed, in Doctor Marvin's opinion, between December 28 and January 1.

Doctor Marvin would insert his extra month in midsummer, in the belief that this would cause the least disturbance to accustomed calculations. This would bring it between the present months of June and July. Every four years would come still an extra day and this would be taken care of by absolutely separate classification. It would have its own special name, such as Leap Year day, and would not be a part of any regular month. It, too, might be a world-wide holiday.

Doctor Marvin says there are many advantages to the plan he proposes. Dividing the year into months which are precise multiples of the seven-day week would simplify business and scientific transactions. Bank interest could be more easily reckoned and accounting could be better standardized. Scientific data, particularly of a meteorological nature, would be better handled on a basis of even week units.

A Simple Reform.
To effect the reform would be no simple matter. The government of the world, nations, communities, schools, the institutions and perhaps, most important of all, the various churches, would have to be brought into agreement upon the program. Because of the numerous church festivals, saints' days and the like, the church is closely bound up with the calendar. Indeed, heretofore the calendar has been in the hands of the churchmen rather than laymen, and the calendar that this letter is dated by was established by the pope of Rome.

Doctor Marvin points out that the change could be effected with least inconvenience by taking action before 1928, the nearest year in which January 1 falls on a Sunday. This would enable the new year to start on the first day of a week.

The history of the development of the calendar is of absorbing interest. The earliest savages were dimly aware of divisions of time, reckoning them by astronomical phenomena. Our "North American Indians" to this day refer to the months as the "moons." There is the "moon of blossoms" and so on, with a distinctive name for each cycle of the moon. The Indian reckons lesser periods of time, by suns. From one place to another will be described as "two suns' journey."

The early Egyptians had a year of 360 days, months with an extra five days each year. In early Hebrew history we find the year of 12 months with an occasional extra month when one was needed to adjust the calendar.

The early Greeks also had a 12-month year. Every 19 years the moon returns on precisely the same day, completing a cycle, and the Greeks were guided by this and made adjustments accordingly.

The Greek month was not divided into weeks, as our month is, but into decades. Each 30-day month had three decades of 10 days each. In some respects this might be regarded as a simpler system than the four-week month, but Christendom would never accept such a scheme because of the teaching of Genesis which specifically tells that the Lord labored six days and rested upon the seventh. The teachings of the Scriptures enjoin upon us six days' labor and then a day of rest. This has fixed the seven-day week in the Occident.

Cæsar Made Changes.
The Greek system was generally employed in the Mediterranean basin but by the time of the Roman emperor, Julius Cæsar, the division of months had become sufficiently maladjusted by right differences from year to year that the astronomers found the calendar to be two months out of the way. Cæsar ordered his experts to work out a new system and they did so.

Julius Cæsar, it must be remembered, was the head of the Roman church as well as the civil emperor of the Romans. The year in which the transition from the old to the new calendar was made was called the year of confusion. It contained 14 months. The new calendar was called the Julian calendar, being named after Julius Cæsar, and a new name of July was given to a midsummer month to commemorate his service to mankind.

In readjusting the time measurement the Julian calendar was employed by the entire Occident up until 1582.

Ten Days Error Found.
By that date it was found to be about ten days out of reckoning and Pope Gregory instituted a study which resulted in the establishment of the calendar used today. To show the importance of obtaining the consent of the churches to any change in the calendar it may be recalled that the Greek church did not accept the Gregorian calendar, but adhered to the old one.

The result was that up until the memory of living persons the Russian time was about half a month out of the way. The difference was comparable to the difference in this country of two cities, one of which has daylight saving and the other standard time. In 1918 a letter one added the letters O. S. after the date if he were using the old style.

At the time of the French revolution an attempt was made to revise the calendar, but it proved abortive. The rest of Europe would not co-operate and the project was abandoned.

The East has different methods. The Mohammedan calendar shows differences from ours. In this country an occasional bill is introduced to change the method of computing time, but little attention has been paid to them. The present movement is the most serious since that of the French revolution.

HABIT CLINICS FOR CHILDREN A SUCCESS

Department of Labor Reports Favorable Results in Treatment of Abnormal Cases.

Washington.—"Habit clinics" for young children, the latest development in the child hygiene field, are described in a report just issued by the children's bureau of the Department of Labor.

The habit clinic treats children displaying temper tantrums or other bad habits as "patients" and diagnoses and treats the bad habit on a scientific basis. By eliminating the cause of the bad habit the clinic helps the child to make a normal adjustment to his surroundings and develop into a well-rounded personality.

Dr. D. A. Thom, Boston, director of the habit clinics of the Community Health association of that city, is the author of the report issued by the children's bureau. He states that the first habit clinic, organized in 1921, was so successful that there now are eight clinics, three under the association and five under the division of mental hygiene of the Massachusetts department of mental diseases. Doctor Thom also is director of this division.

Habits most frequently treated by the clinics relate to feeding problems, temper tantrums, pugnacity and shy-ness, problems relating to sex life, nervousness, destructiveness, delinquency and acute personality changes.

Children who just "won't eat" the whole reason, they need a child who responds to every attempt at discipline with a screaming, kicking attack of temper; children who are either too shy or too "bossy" to mingle happily with schoolmates and playmates, or even brothers and sisters; children who, without apparent reason, begin to lie or steal, and many others, come or are brought to the clinics to get their difficulties straightened out.

Prior to Doctor Thom's report this year, 100 cases were registered at the clinics, 100 of which were studied thoroughly. In only 10 cases, Doctor Thom reports, were results discouraging and no evidence of improvement shown. Of these discouraging cases, 12 came from families which gave no co-operation. Only seven children whose families co-operated failed to improve.

Lincoln, Famous Spy, Turns Up as Fascist.
Ignazio T. Trebbach-Lincoln, probably the most amusing international character brought to public attention during the war and after, has again appeared, this time in connection with the Italian imbroglio surrounding the murder of Giacomo Matteotti. Dispatches from the Italian capital tell of the identification of "Otto Chirazi," one of those under arrest for the slaying, as Lincoln, Hungarian Jew and Anglican curate, British M. P. and German spy, and likewise one-time tenant of the Raymond street jail in Brooklyn. Lincoln's career takes in episodes from all over the world. It is said he once wrote letters which caused distraction among the police heads of Brooklyn's force.

TORTURED BY FATHER, CHILD SAYS.

Paul Porel is under arrest in New York City on the charge of inflicting inhuman punishment on his daughter, Antoinette, eight, who is shown here with Mrs. M. Coleman, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Porel is alleged to have tied the girl up by her wrists for 24 hours, during which time her cries alarmed tenants of the house where the Porels live. They summoned a policeman, who found her hanging limply, her hands pinned from constricted blood and her wrists equally bruised.

Apples Big as Melons Grown by Italian Burbank

ROME (By mail to United Press).—Italy now claims a super-Burbank in Alberto Pirovano, who, according to reports from his laboratory, has wrought wonders in making cherries as large as plums, plums as large as apples and apples as large as melons.

So successful has the work of this naturalist and biologist been that banks and financial companies have joined to give him all the assistance both moral and material, in carrying on further experiments. These institutions have just built this new scientific a huge, fully-equipped laboratory near Palianza on Lake Stresa.

Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the premier, is one of the prime promoters. The Banca Commerciale Italiana, the largest Italian financial institution, and numerous big electrical companies like the Edison company, Milan, are supporting the schemes.

Pirovano, besides using the Burbank method of making and crossing certain types of plants to produce a new fruit or better fruit, also uses an electric current. He applies electrical energy to the plant itself. By regulating the current, he claims he can hasten or retard its growth, and thus cause the current to act upon it to bring the right result.

"It has been found that the pollen of plants is very sensitive to electric action," he said. "If the current is applied according to certain rules, the plant's growth is either retarded or increased. Should a robust plant be required, then the pollen is dealt with so as to insure a retarded growth, thus causing a stronger organism. The retarded blossoming of the plant makes for a better and bigger fruit. If the strength of the plant goes into the blossom, then the size and quality of the fruit is the sufferer."

The method also is to be carried on the realm of flowers, where it is claimed a method has been found of changing the color and shape of the petals.

Thirtieth Infantry Ranks

High in Marksmanship

San Francisco, Cal.—The Thirtieth Infantry, stationed here, is establishing the reputation of being the best regiment of marksmen in the army. It is said at Western division headquarters. Recently 46 men of the regiment went to the rifle range at Fort Barry with automatic rifles. The qualification of "expert marksman," the highest grade awarded for marksmanship, was given to 14 and the other two won the rank of "sharpshooter," the next highest grade.

The automatic rifle, a light, air-cooled machine gun, is carried and fired like an ordinary rifle and requires expert handling.

Out of 60 automatic gunners of the regiment 85 have qualified as expert riflemen this year and the other 5 rank as sharpshooters.

MIGHTIEST WARSHIP "A BANDONED" AT SEA

The most spectacular drift ever photographed was the "abandoning" of the U. S. S. Colorado, one of the greatest warships afloat, in mid-Atlantic. The scene was part of an "abandoning" drill which would have been a reality if the vessel were actually sinking. The men rushed to collision quarters, donned life preservers, dropped their life boats from the davits, clambered into them from swinging Jacob's ladders, and pulled away from the "sinking" vessel. As would be the case in the event of an actual disaster, Captain R. H. Bellamy, commanding the mighty superdreadnought, refused to leave the ship with any other man, as he. Then he turned and saluted the colors before entering a life boat just as his ship "foundered."

Alaska's Brown Bears
Lure Hosts of Hunters

Anchorage, Alaska.—Pioneer hunting parties, each with two to seven men and women, have left here for the Northwest to hunt America's biggest flesh-eating animal.

The Alaska peninsula is, without doubt, the best bear country in the world today, although in sections where a hunter, five years ago, would get from twenty to fifty pelts in a season, the game is scarce.

The range and distribution of the Alaskan grizzly is for the most part through the coastal country from Icy Strait, near Bethel, along Prince William sound, Kodiak and other islands, the entire Alaskan peninsula and along Bristol bay and Bering sea. In fact, the big brown bears are found where salmon abound.

The results of the de luxe bear chase are the finest pelts for rugs, robes or coats. Attractive trophies of mounted heads and claws are brought home to adorn office and smoking dens. The short season when the blies are well furred ensures the crop for many generations, provided, of course, that salmon and other food for the animals continues abundant.

Raise Fine Specimens
of Butterfly in France
Butterfly culture in the south of France is rapidly growing in popularity. Here, under expert scientific guidance, hundreds of beautiful specimens are bred. The farms are provided with special leafy trees and plants on which the eggs are hatched. Directly the young appear the branches are taken to a well-ventilated room, where they are placed in jars of water. As soon as the caterpillars have eaten up this first supply of leaves fresh branches are provided. Having been in an even temperate for about two weeks, the young caterpillars are taken out into the open, where they are placed on plants protected from birds by nets. When fully grown this protective net is removed and soon they retire into cocoons or roll themselves up into leaves. These are collected and stored in boxes, where in a very short time butterflies of wonderful hues are evolved. Cross-breeding has been tried and numerous experiments are conducted to obtain brilliant and original markings on the wings of these insects, which are afterward sold to collectors or for the adornment of women's hats and dresses.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Howard Lake, Minnesota.—"I write to let you know that I have taken several bottles of your medicine in the last three months, and found it to be very good. I had pains and other troubles women have and was not able to do my work. Seeing your 'Ad.' in the paper, I thought of giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I got good results from it and feel able to do my housework now. I used to have lots of pains, but after taking the medicine I am relieved from pains that I had suffered from for years. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends, and hope this letter will be satisfactory for you to publish."—Mrs. JENNIE JAH, R. R. No. 2, Howard Lake, Minn.

Dickerson Run Easy For Capstan Sluggers

South Connellsville Team Pounds Two Pitchers for 16 Hits, 12 Runs.

SCOTSDALE WEDNESDAY

When the P. & L. E. railroad outfit from Dickerson Run resorted to slugging, the Capstan Independents showed the visitors how it should be done and slammed the ball for 16 hits and 12 runs in a seven-inning contest at South Connellsville last evening, while the underdog aggregation took advantage of Pop Francis and Elaine Dushaw's off day, the couple making seven errors, and coupling the clunkers with nine hits, tallied eight markers. Needless to say, Capstan won, 12 to 8. Another large crowd witnessed the game that was thrilling throughout. A large number of spectators accompanied the visiting team.

The "glass blowers" have always waited during the game to see what tactics the opposing team would employ and then would go into the game, determined to beat them at their own game. That is the secret of their remarkable success, beating a team at its own game. The Dickerson Run outfit came to Dingville fully determined to give the "glass blowers" a lesson, but Billy Moorman's baseball strategy proved to be the down fall of the losers. The hit and run play was used at all times.

The visitors shook hands with Jeff Moorman in the initial frame by coupling three hits to two errors and chalking up two markers. The lead was short lived, for Jeff's mate came back and slammed out five hits for three runs, putting the game at even-stevens. The railroaders came back in the third with a single tally, only to lose out when the home outfit sent three runs across. That was enough for Bill Addis and he gave way to Durbin, the pride of the railroad outfit. The "glass blowers" showed no mercy to the new twirler and after the losers tallied once in the fourth, the local outfit swatted out three hits in succession for two runs and continued the batting rampage in the sixth when they got five hits and tallied three times. Jeff Moorman decided to take it easy and the Dickerson Run nine tallied another run in the sixth and two in the ninth.

Moorman pitched a steady game for the local team, while Addis and Durbin were hit hard. The latter was wild, walking three men and making a wild throw. Moorman struck out three and allowed but one free ticket. The game with Smithfield Independents for this evening was cancelled by agreement of both teams. It was announced this morning. The Smithfield team has gone through a reconstruction period and, with a new line-up, the outfit felt certain they could run the local team. The game was to have been played at Smithfield.

The next game will be played Wednesday at South Connellsville, when the Keystone Independents of Scottdale will make its appearance. The Keystone nine holds two victories over Brownstown, which defeated the local team on Saturday. Casey Jones, former Connellsville twirler, is with the Keystone team. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

SCOTSDALE AND WEST NEWTON MEET TOMORROW

Special to The Courier
SCOTSDALE, Aug. 5.—Eyes of Westmoreland and Fayette county baseball fans are centered on the contest to be played at Scottdale on Wednesday between West Newton and the Scottdale Independents for the championship of Fayette county. A three cornered fight among Scottdale, Jeannette and West Newton. Last year West Newton topped the championship, with Bill Helmick, the Uniontown ace, doing mound duty. This year absence of Helmick has put a crimp in Bill Goehring's aspirations and he has had to rely on Elmer, Legs Roscoe and Brown. With the release of Elmer on Saturday, Legs Roscoe will be the mainstay for the West Newton team. He will start against the Scottdale Gaisle will rely on Gatchell, the Morgantown collegian, who recently set down Braddock Elks, McKeesport Tubers and Bellevue. It has been announced that Horrick, the Sackville Stogie outfielder, will again cover right field. Harlick was the star of the Scottdale-Jeannette game. With the first game played at West Newton ending in a draw after 11 innings of hard fighting, the odds seem to favor Scottdale. Gaisle, the independent pilot, and Kopf, the W. A. J. star, who form the board of strategy however, have been burning the midnight electricity so fans can look forward to seeing one of the best games of the season. The game will start at 8:15.

JIMMY DAVIN PLAYING GREAT GAME BEHIND BAT FOR CAPSTAN

The all-around playing of Jimmy Davin is attracting attention anywhere the youth is placed. Working as a backstop, Davin has proved himself and taken Al Ridge's job as a regular from him by his brilliant fielding and demon-like hitting. Nabbing foul flies within 50 feet is a hobby of Jimmy's and he turned in a good catch yesterday just as he did at Fairmont the day previous. His skill in handling the pitchers is remarkable and is the reason for the success of the mountaineers. That Jimmy can hit is easily seen in the records. He is batting at a .350 clip and expects to reach the 400 mark. He got two doubles and a single yesterday. Davin is feet of foot. With a catcher like Davin, the success of a baseball club is assured.

"CAP" STUBBS

BENEFIT GAME FOR FAMILIES OF TRUCK WRECK'S VICTIMS

The Capstan Independents are making arrangements to play a benefit game for the widows of John Hayes and Clyde Vernon, victims of an automobile accident last week. Manager Percy announced last evening that he is making arrangements to book a first class ball club for a South Connellsville attraction. He was unable to state what team would play. The date for the game has not been selected.

DAVADAS PLAY BOGGS & BUHL ON WEDNESDAY

Trying to please the public by giving them a "real ball club" the Davada Independents will clash with the Boggs & Buhl baseball club of Pittsburgh Wednesday afternoon at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. grounds at 5 o'clock. The team was booked for a Wednesday attraction to give the business men, who will be enjoying a half holiday on that day, a chance to see a good attraction. With a reconstructed lineup, the Tough Valley outfit promises action, while the Pittsburghers have notified the local nine that nothing less than a victory will please them. A good game is anticipated to the first inning. It is probable that "Fats" Durbin will receive the twirling assignment for the day. Edwards will work behind the bat. Brown and LaPorte, Bethany stars will find themselves in the lineup at their regular positions, third and second respectively. It is probable that "Lefty" Layton will be added to the Davada roster, according to the "hot stove league gossip."

According to the management of the Davadas, the fans will give them an idea as to what priced baseball they want to see. Their numbers on the field to root for the local team, and the amount of money received will be the deciding factors in determining. Should they fall below what is expected it is probable that the fans will have to go elsewhere to see baseball games.

Three Games This Week on Schedule of Scottdale Team

A very busy week is in store for the Scottdale Independents. On Wednesday the West Newton club will appear for the second game of the series for the championship of Westmoreland county, the first played at West Newton ending in a draw after 11 innings hard battling. Gaisle will send Gatchell, the Morgantown ace, in an effort to top the first victory. On Thursday, the Scottdale Gaisle will play a twilight game Doc Brown, who hurled the Independents to victory over the Tressers at Monaca, will likely draw the assignment, though it is possible a new twirler may be engaged and retained for later hard contests in case he is successful in downing the Bellevueites on their home grounds. The series with Bellevue stands one to nothing in favor of the Independents, the third game will be played at Scottdale in the first week of September.

On Saturday, the Independents will be hosts to the Sharon Elks, probably the greatest attraction in semi professional circles. The contest will be the first of a game and game series, the second to be staged in Sharon during the latter part of August.

Davidson to Play Alverton Wednesday At Davidson Field

The Davidson baseball club will play Alverton at Davidson Wednesday evening, the game starting at 8:30 o'clock. Davidson defeated Brownstown Independents of Scottdale Friday in a seven-inning game by a score of 6 to 3. The visitors came to Davidson with the idea of quickly disposing of the coke team but were given the surprise of their lives. Quinn held them to five hits, while the locals got nine, three of which were for three bases.

Jack Elvie, Lawrenceville pug, regained his prestige last evening by giving Ray Mitchell a lacing at Philadelphia in a 10 round fight.

Reilly, Pitcher, Added to Capstan

James Reilly a star mountaineer, has been added to the hurling staff of the Capstan Independents. Jimmy was signed last evening by Manager Percy. Reilly is rated as one of the leading twirlers in baseball circles. He was twirling for the Braddock Elks recently, and was the star hurler for the Duquesne University. Manager Percy is certain Jimmy will "turn in a bunch of victories." Besides being a pitcher, Reilly can hit and is a good fielder.

The Capstan pitching staff boasts of three stars. Moorman and Alexander are the regulars, who will be assisted by Reilly. George Clawson is another mountaineer, while Vincent Harrold takes the mound every now and then.

Phases Best Brooklyn

The Poplar Grove Klairdals defeated the Dunbar Colts yesterday at Poplar Grove, 7 to 5, in one of the best games of the year. The Klairdals hit Sealing effectively and garnered 11 hits off of him. Blitzer twirled a good game for the winners and was awarded good support. The Klairdals will play at Poplar Grove tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The horsehoe match between the Presbyterians and the Methodists scheduled for last evening, failed to materialize. Captain C. W. Downs of the former team, in leaving for Atlantic City, said that arrangements for the game had been made without his knowledge. He'll arrange a game when he returns he said.

Six members of the local tennis association are expected to participate in the Maryland state tennis tournament that will be held on Monday, August 18 at Cumberland. Although these expected to go have not completed arrangements they are as follows: Reid Pendleton, Albert and Paul Holston, Edward Dick, Fred Gans and Robert Harwick.

The League of Nations ball club was defeated by the Brookville nine last evening at Brookville, 4 to 3.

The Pittsburg Pirates continued their daisy pace yesterday by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers in the second game of the series by a 5 to 3 score. Cooper worked on the mound for the Bucs, while three mountaineers were used by the Brooklyn outfit.

The Yankees and the Tigers in the American League continued to see-saw in one of the greatest battles for supremacy in the Johnson League yesterday when the pangs behind Babe Ruth trimmed Ty Cobb's outfit, 9 to 5. The New York outfit went into first place by virtue of yesterday's win.

What Latex means to U. S. Balloon Tires

NOTICE a balloon tire flares under the weight of the car and you realize how great a responsibility for combined flexibility and strength low air-pressure construction throws on the tire manufacturer.

When the balloon tire was first being considered the makers of U. S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires had already developed the Latex Process—and patented it.

They had the supply of latex—liquid raw rubber—on their own plantations—and the methods for bringing it to this country.

So U. S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires are built of Latex-treated cords—and have strength and flexibility obtainable by no other method.

Combined with longer service, U. S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires have the advantages of accurate balance and a tread scientifically designed for low air-pressure.

Consequently their tractive and anti-skid qualities meet every requirement of safety and ease in handling at all speeds.

"THE BROKEN WING"—Showing today at the Paramount, is one of the best attractions seen at this theatre in months. Kenneth Harlan appears in the role of an aviator who crashes into the top of a Mexican house. He loses his memory because of the accident. He falls in love with a secretary and marries her. (Then comes the spectre of his past life. The airplane thriller will make you gasp and the love story will make your heart beat a little faster. Brian Cooper appears in the role of the son of the aviator. He is an engaging, ruffian bandit. He is good for a whole lot of laughs. Edward J. Brady, Richard Tucker and Miss de Pont are other members of the cast. The picture is a screen version of the famous stage success.

Wednesday and Thursday, Betty Blythe will be seen in "How Women Love," a story of a girl who promised not to fall in love. Of course, she couldn't keep her promise—what girl could? But this girl, particularly, couldn't. She was young. She came to New York from Italy. She had a wonderful voice. She had wonderful eyes. That is, she had everything to make a man love her—and when the right man came along, naturally she fell in love with him.

The Soisson

"THE REAL ADVENTURE"—presenting Florence Vidor in an interesting role, is the feature picture today and tomorrow. "The Real Adventure" is a satire on marriage as conceived by that clever modern story teller, Henry Kitchell Webster. It provides Miss Vidor with a role said to be particularly well suited to her talents and personality, and at the same time allows her to display a wardrobe of magnitude and magnificence.

Miss Vidor plays the role of a college girl who meets a man under circumstances so prosaic they are remarkable. After a whirlwind courtship they are married. She is a keen-thinking young woman and had dreamed of being a great help to her husband—and being considered by him an intellectual equal. Instead, he considers her only a woman—man's rarest possession.

Their matrimonial craft rocked on the waves of disillusionment. He was blind to the danger—the lavished her love and love upon her. What more had she a right to? What more could he give her? She told him she wanted his friendship, and he laughed at her. He loved her—didn't that include friendship?

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Harry Carey will be seen in "Tiger Thompson."

The Orpheum

"THE GUILTY ONE" showing today and Wednesday at the Orpheum, is a Paramount picture with Agnes Ayres in the leading role.

The picture, which was shown for the first time in this theatre last night, is by far the best Miss Ayres has ever done. In it she has a great story, a great cast and a role that suits her to perfection. Here's a picture in which Miss Ayres has to act and wear beautiful gowns as well, and there's

Have you ever considered any ambi-

China Had Great Ruler in Chin Shih Huang

Fifty miles south of the Chinese city of Peking has been discovered the ruins of an ancient city, which flourished over 2,000 years ago. The walls embrace greater area than the walls of Peking and lie buried at an average depth of four feet. Late in the second century B. C., there arose
a king in the then comparatively small China who compared favorably with Alexander in conquests and empire building and whose empire lasted almost until the present day. This was Chin Shih Huang, or Shih Huang Ti
("The First Emperor") whose rule ending in 206 B. C., marks the close of the feudal period and the beginning of the empire in Chinese history. Shih Huang Ti subdued the feudal princes, built the famed great Chinese wall
and successfully defended the country
against the Tartars from the north,
standardized money, transportation,
writing and other things which aided centralization, and destroyed as much of the ancient customs and traditions
as possible with the idea that the history of the Chinese empire should begin with his reign.

A branch of friendly relations between England and the Irish Free
State threatens unless Ramsey MacDonald, Labor Premier, compels Parliament to enact immediate legislation to settle the boundary dispute between the Free State and Ulster. He has summoned a London conference, which will be attended by William T. Cosgrove, President of the Free State, and Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster. Craig may be kept away by illness. Miss Virginia G. Caldwell, daughter of Barnard College, Columbia University, New York City, has been elected President of the International Federation of University Women, in session at Christiansburg, Norway.

To Have Chic Turban From Strip of Crepe

Something new and unusual in the line of hats was observed recently on a young and pretty woman, returning to this country from abroad, writes a fashion correspondent. On first glance, and indeed until the observer was underneath, it seemed to be a tiny, closely wound turban, more chic because it was so small and fitted her head so securely.

Later on, by request, the wearer
obligingly took it off and held it up to view, and the curious news seeker found, to her surprise, that it was just a long, straight piece of crepe silk up the middle and molded into shape upon the head.

The hat in question bore the label
of a smart designer, but an ingenious style seeker could easily construct one at home or take the idea to her favorite milliner.

The piece of crepe, of single thickness if heavy enough, should be about thirty-two inches long and half a yard wide. It is slit up the middle lengthwise, all except the last 18 inches or whatever the measurement of the wearer's head is from brow over the top of her head to the nape of her neck. The single wide end is then gathered into a handsome ornament,
which forms the front of the hat.

When it is to be worn the ornament is adjusted at the front, the end of the long slit coming at the back of the neck, and the two ends are crossed, twisted slightly, and wound around the head, over the front ornament, and finally tucked in just back of the ear hole.

Shoes of Odd Leather Are Worn by Europeans

Fashionable European summer reports this year assume certain aspects of a see in ladies' footwear, which has even taken to monkey skin sandals, soft and pliable and guaranteed not to squeak. The vogue for odd leather for shoes of all kinds started with the first blash of spring, the earliest of the season's novelties in this line to arrive being alligator slippers, especially recommended for dancing glides.
Running a close second for honors
were the snakeskin sandals, and then came in rapid succession shoes of skinn of lizards, crocodiles and even the hide of the elephant has been brought from the jungle to add to the thrills of the crowds at the seaside
and mountain hotels.

Miniature parrots in bright red,
blue and green, have fluttered in, too,
to adorn the handles of lady's pamper for the summer.

FILL THE COOKY JAR

No child will ever forget the delight
of grandmother's cookie jar, and even the older ones enjoy a cup of tea. In most families the cherished
recipes are handed down
from mother to daughter.
Here are a few that are good and worth saving.

White Cookies.—Take
two cups of sugar, one
cup of shortening,
one cup of butter, three cups of flour, and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Cream the sugar
and butter, add the flour and baking powder, and roll into balls. Bake in a hot oven.

Hermit.—To one cupful of thick
sour cream add two cupfuls of brown
sugar, one cupful of chopped raisins, two-thirds of a cupful of butter, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful each of soda, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg,
and stir with flour to make a stiff dough. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a baking sheet, add a nut or raisin on top of each and bake in a moderate oven.

Soft Molasses Cookies.—Take one half cupful of shortening, two cupfuls
of molasses, and put over the heat.
When the boiling point is reached add one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and ginger, stir well and remove from the heat. Add one beaten egg, one cupful of sour milk and one teaspoonful of soda. Beat well and add about four cupfuls of flour and drop from a spoon
on a baking sheet.

One may add different spices, nuts
and fruit to the above recipe, making a different tasting cookie.

Aunt O's Cookies.—Take one cupful
each of butter and sugar, two eggs
well beaten, one-half cupful of milk,
nutmeg to taste and three teaspoonfuls of baking powder added to flour to roll. Roll, cut and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven.

UPWARD TURN IN PRODUCTION OF BITUMINOUS COAL

Rose to 7,544,000, a Gain of 163,000
Tons Last Week in July; Beehive
Coke Again Declines.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Soft coal production turned upward again in the week ended July 28, says the United States Geological Survey. The total estimated output, including lignite, coal coked, mine fuel, and local sales is placed at 7,544,000 net tons, an increase of 163,000 tons. The railroad reports indicate that the improvement was general except in the Allegheny Region. The principal increase in loadings were on the lines of railroads serving the Southern Region. The rate of average daily production has finally crossed that for 1921. More than two million tons must be added to the weekly rate of production, however, before it will approach normal years.

The production for 1924 to date has been 244,420,000 as contrasted with $11,971,000 tons in 1923; 208,887,000 tons in 1922 and 227,947,000 tons in 1921. In 1918, the banner year the production at the corresponding date
was 330,150,000 tons.

The production of beehive coke continues to decline slowly. The total output in the week ended July 28 is now estimated at 20,000 net tons. The loss occurred in Pennsylvania, Ohio
and West Virginia in the southern district there was a slight improvement. According to The Courier,
there was a slight gain in the Connecticut Region to 44,120 tons.

To July 26 cumulative production stood at 6,484,000 tons. In 1923 it was 11,488,000 tons; 1922, 3,911,000
tons and 1921, 12,154,000 tons.

This is seen that from the viewpoint of the production of beehive coke the year 1921 now stands 43 per cent behind 1923 and 47 per cent behind 1920 years in which the demand for coke was active. In comparison with 1921 and 1922, in which years the production of beehive coke was curtailed by the industrial depression of the earlier year and the miners' strike
of the latter, 1924 stands approximately 75 per cent ahead.

Production by states as compared with the corresponding week in 1923,
was as follows:

	1924	1923
Pennsylvania & Ohio	12,200	123,000
West Virginia	6,000	22,000
Alabama, Kentucky
Tennessee and
Georgia	10,000	17,000
Virginia	7,000	14,000
Colorado and New
Mexico	4,000	7,000
Washington & Utah	4,000	7,000
U. S. Total	29,200	163,000

Fall Millinery Whims

ONE thing all these new fall hats have in common. They are as small, as sleek and silky, as ever, and still smarter and varied. Artistic draping, an unexpected quirk of the fabric, an ornament or patch of embroidery cleverly placed, gives the brims a becoming irregularity.

ALL of the high spots of the mode are reflected in this collection. New Silks New Felts. Touches of velvet
Colors and brims are high on modish fall hats. An outstanding feature is the high, squared-off crown and the roll brim effect that is rapidly replacing the typical cloche style.

TALBOT, Marie Guy, Reboux and other famous French milliners set the fashions followed by these fall hats.

ed with velvet, tulle, faille ribbon and
